OBJECTIVES

Today we’ll cover:

- How registered apprenticeship benefits individuals, employers, and programs
- What comprises the essential components of an apprenticeship program
- How to differentiate apprenticeship from other work-based learning models
- How to locate apprenticeship programs available in their region and make referrals
WHAT IS REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP?

Apprenticeship: Apprenticeship is an industry-driven, high-quality career pathway where employers can develop and prepare their future workforce, and individuals can obtain paid work experience, classroom instruction, and a portable, nationally-recognized credential.

FIVE COMPONENTS OF REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP

1. Employer Involvement
   Programs start with employer needs -- they are the foundation of the program.

2. Structured and Supervised On-the-Job Training (OJT)
   Competencies are attained through OJT. (Minimum: 2000 hours)

3. Related Training and Instruction (RTI)
   RTI involves classroom training or associated curriculum.
   (144 hours per year recommended)

4. Rewards for Skill Gains
   Apprentices receive progressive wage increases commensurate with increase in proficiency.

5. National Occupational Credential
   Registered Apprenticeship (RA) Completion Certificate is a recognized postsecondary credential under WIOA (Section 3(52)); stackable and portable.
EACH REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP MUST HAVE...

- 2,000 hours of on-the-job training
  - Most programs last about four years but can range 1-6 years

- A recommended 144 related instruction hours per year
  - Types of related instruction:
    - Technical or Academic High Schools
    - Adult Night School
    - Community College
    - Universities
    - Correspondence Courses
    - Online Courses
APPRENTICESHIP ADDRESSES KEY WORKFORCE PROBLEMS

Employer Challenges: skill gaps, skill shortages, and skill mismatches
- Lack of experience
- Lack of requisite education
- Lack of employability skills (aka “soft skills”)

Worker Challenges: unstable or unsustainable work circumstances
- Employee turnover
- Low wages
- Lack of opportunities for advancement
REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP BENEFITS THE APPRENTICE

- A paycheck from day one with built-in incremental raises as skill level increases
- Higher wages at conclusion of training
- Practical, on-the-job training in a wide variety of occupations
- Potential to earn college credits
- Diverse & inclusive: team based with built-in, higher-level mentor
- Clear cut guidelines and training standards
- An industry-recognized, nationally portable credential
REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP BENEFITS THE EMPLOYER

- Reduced turnover
- Increased productivity and safety
- Lower costs for recruitment
- Increased diversity
- Skilled workforce trained to employer specifications
- High return on investment - https://apprenticeshipusa.workforcegps.org/resources/2017/08/29/12/43/Expanding-Apprenticeship-Return-on-Investment-ROI

- Possible Tax Credits - https://www.apprenticeship.gov/employers/state-tax-credits
REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP BENEFITS SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

- Minimal financial investment
- Successful placement in high wage employment
- Higher employment retention rates
- Higher levels of program satisfaction
- Lower program recidivism rates
- Enhances meaningful engagement with employers
- Suitability of position that doesn’t negatively impact consumers’ health and wellbeing
STATE OR FEDERALLY RUN REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP PROGRAMS

Registered Apprenticeship Programs can be registered by the US Department of Labor or by State Apprenticeship Agencies that are recognized by the Department of Labor.

Contact information for each state’s apprenticeship office.
APPRENTICESHIP MEANS RESILIENCE

And resilience comes from being part of building the future.
